The "Libero" opening serve – 2025-26 season

In the 2024-25 season, a pilot was completed in the Premier League, in which the "Libero" player was allowed to serve.

In light of the success of the pilot, it was decided to adopt the change in the official Mamanet rules as of 2025-26 season.

The changes are updated in yellow in the attached appendix.

Ziv Sedbon

18.3 ACTIONS INVOLVING THE LIBERO

18.3.1.3 The Libero may not ~~serve or~~ block.

18.3.1.4 The Libero is permitted to serve as specified in section 18.3.3.

18.3.3 Serving may be performed under the following conditions:

18.3.3.1 Before the start of each set, the team coach must inform the referee by writing on the line up sheet: the names and uniform numbers of the Libero players and with accordance write on each separate line the name and uniform number of the specific player the Libero will be replacing for the serve.

18.3.3.2 The Scorer shall update the score sheet of the opening line up players and write next to the regular players number, the number (in brackets) of the Libero player intended for serving instead.

18.3.3.3 The Libero player may serve only instead of one designated (specific) player during the whole set and only if the coach registered the player to be substituted on the line up sheet.

18.3.3.4 When a rotation is performed and the regular player reaches position no. 1, the intended Libero may replace the player and serve.

18.3.3.5 If the regular player designated for substitution by the Libero was substituted by a different regular player, then the Libero is not allowed to serve the ball instead of the substitute.
